About a dozen women from South Britain Congregational Church met last week at the church on Route 172 to mix and freeze large batches of home-made piecrust. On Friday, September 17, the crusts will be rolled, bushels of apples will be peeled and sliced and more than 150 pies will be baked, all to be sold the following day at the church's annual Apple Festival, set for 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, September 18, rain or shine. Among those working in the kitchen that day were Joan Kubista (left), Carol Palmer, June Bennett and Jean Harold. (Dunn photo)
